

Section – A Comprehension

I. Read the following Passage

I gave him the can of wine, He poured himself a mug and handed me the can. He drank all of it at one go. He then arranged the belt that was attached to the trunk carefully on his forehead. So, this was the picture. My father carrying my luggage on his back and me following him with a tiny bag in my hand. We were walking up a narrow hilly road, and neither of us uttered a word as if we were strangers who spoke different languages. I did not know what was going on in his mind. From time to time it crossed my mind that it was improper for me to let father carry the luggage. I wanted to tell him that I would like to carry the trunk myself, but my guilt and shame did not allow me to do so. This self-consciousness had probably to do with my education, the white-collar job that I had, or quite simply my pride. Somehow, I had the feeling that if I carried the luggage, my father and my people, in fact the whole world laugh at me and I would be belittled.

Abandoned to the garbage bin,
With mosquitoes and insects Eating its tiny fingers away, Little baby crying for help as foul smells comes into play, irradiating from disposed bacteria Unheard shrieks of the baby's hysteria die in eerie silence of the night, “An outcast of destiny”
Its labored breath racing in quick gasps forced lonely like crap with cyanosed lips
sea-blue nose and fingers-tips, Its tattered and torn dirty wrap make it shiver in freezing grasp A filthy black cat edges on to the holed bin searching for easy rats
And finds its food tearing at the babe's hair with their sharp teeth gnawing at its ears
to complete their feed, As the cat jumps in with a screeching meow
the rats let loose
a clicking squeak
A bloody chaos ensues,
The only sin of the infant-
BEING BORN.
